THE PROBLEM

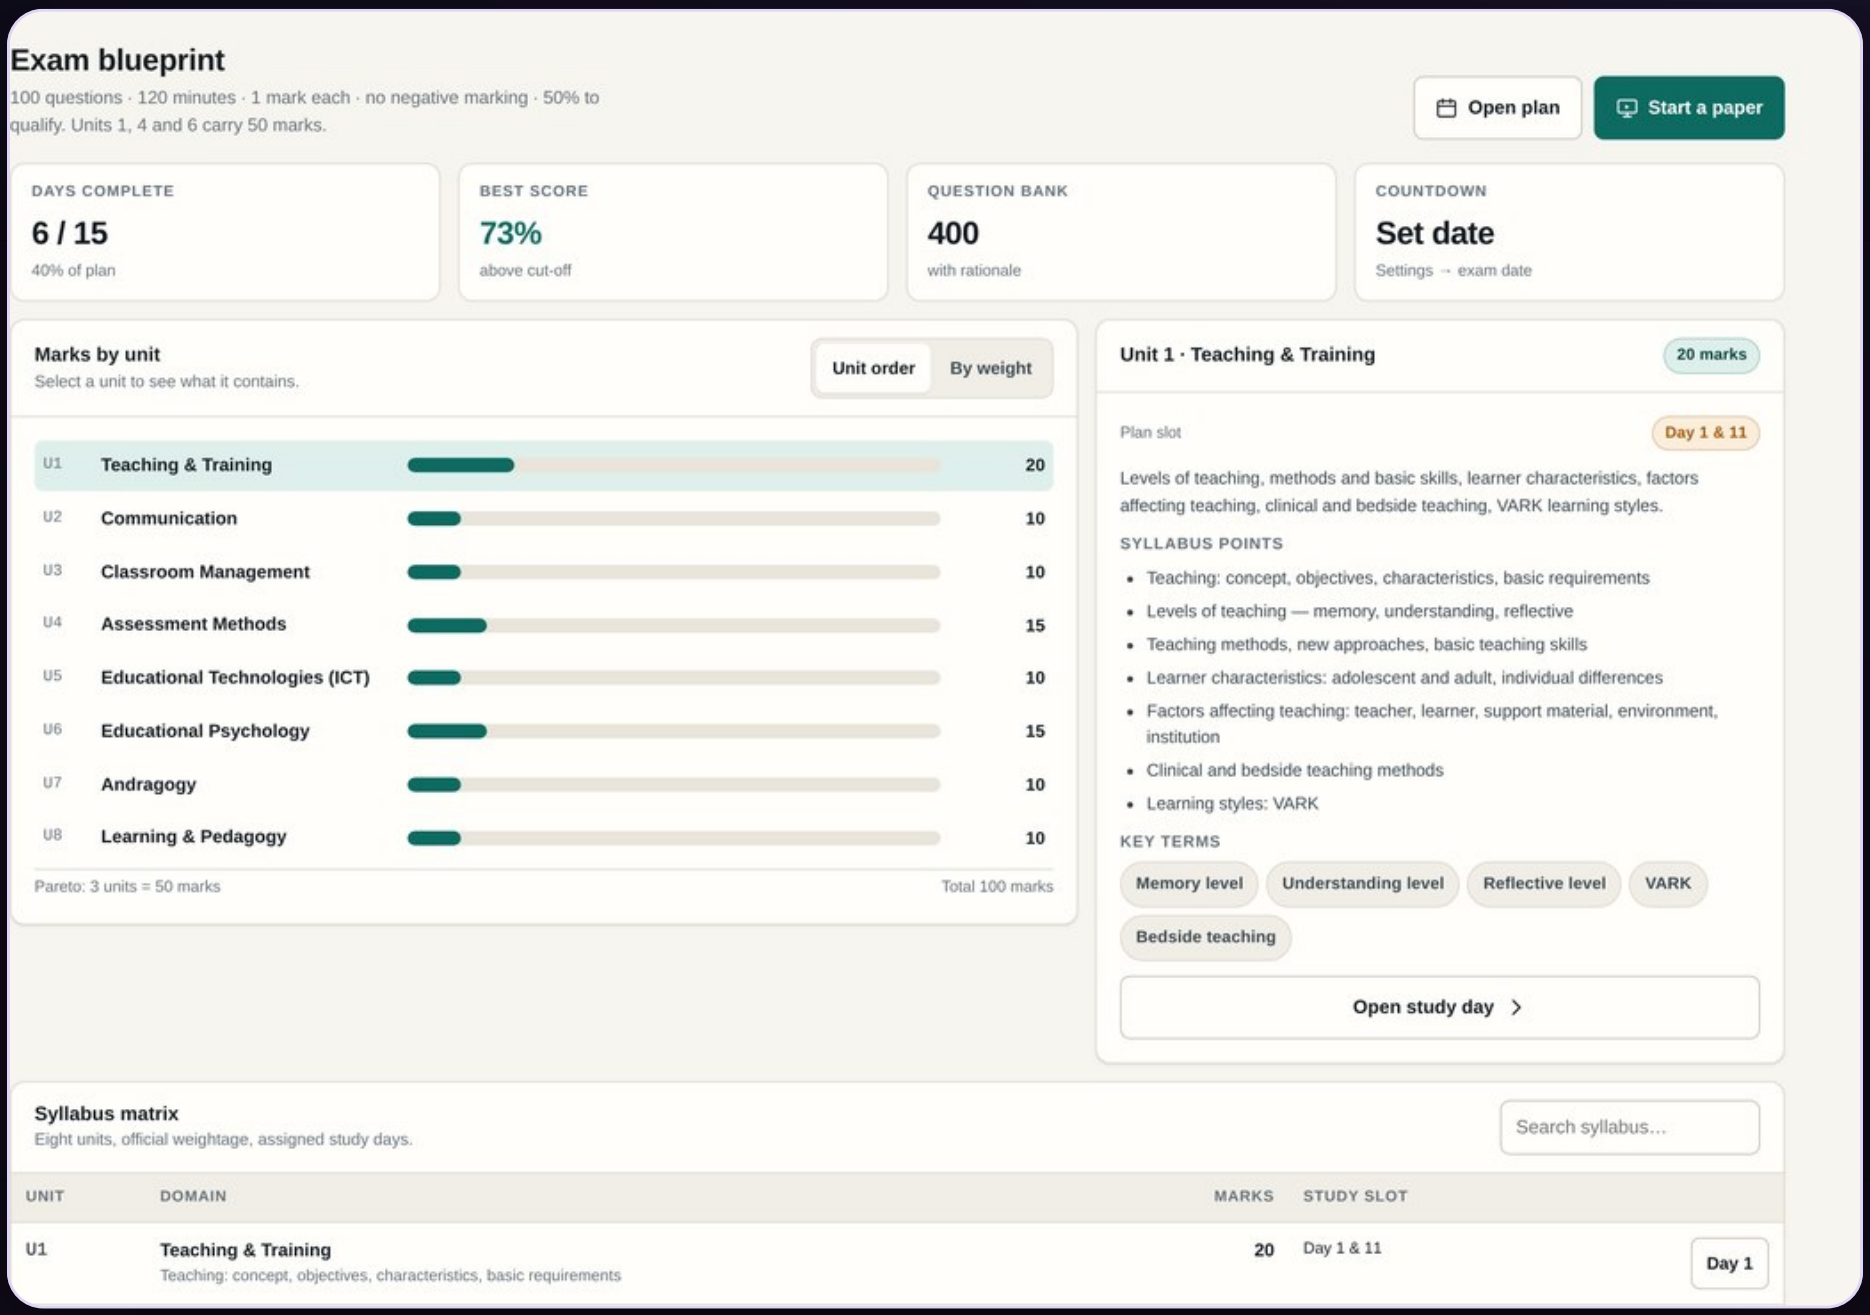

Most NTET preparation is a PDF, a stopwatch, and hope.

- No blueprint. Nobody tells you that Units 1, 4 and 6 alone carry 50 of the 100 marks.
- No feedback. You finish a paper, see a score, and learn nothing from the 30 questions you got wrong.
- No offline option. Most courses need a login and a stable connection.
- No plain language. The syllabus is written for education academics, not clinicians.

So the course was built backwards from the paper: 100 marks, 8 units, 120 minutes, no negative marking, 50% to qualify.

01 · BLUEPRINT

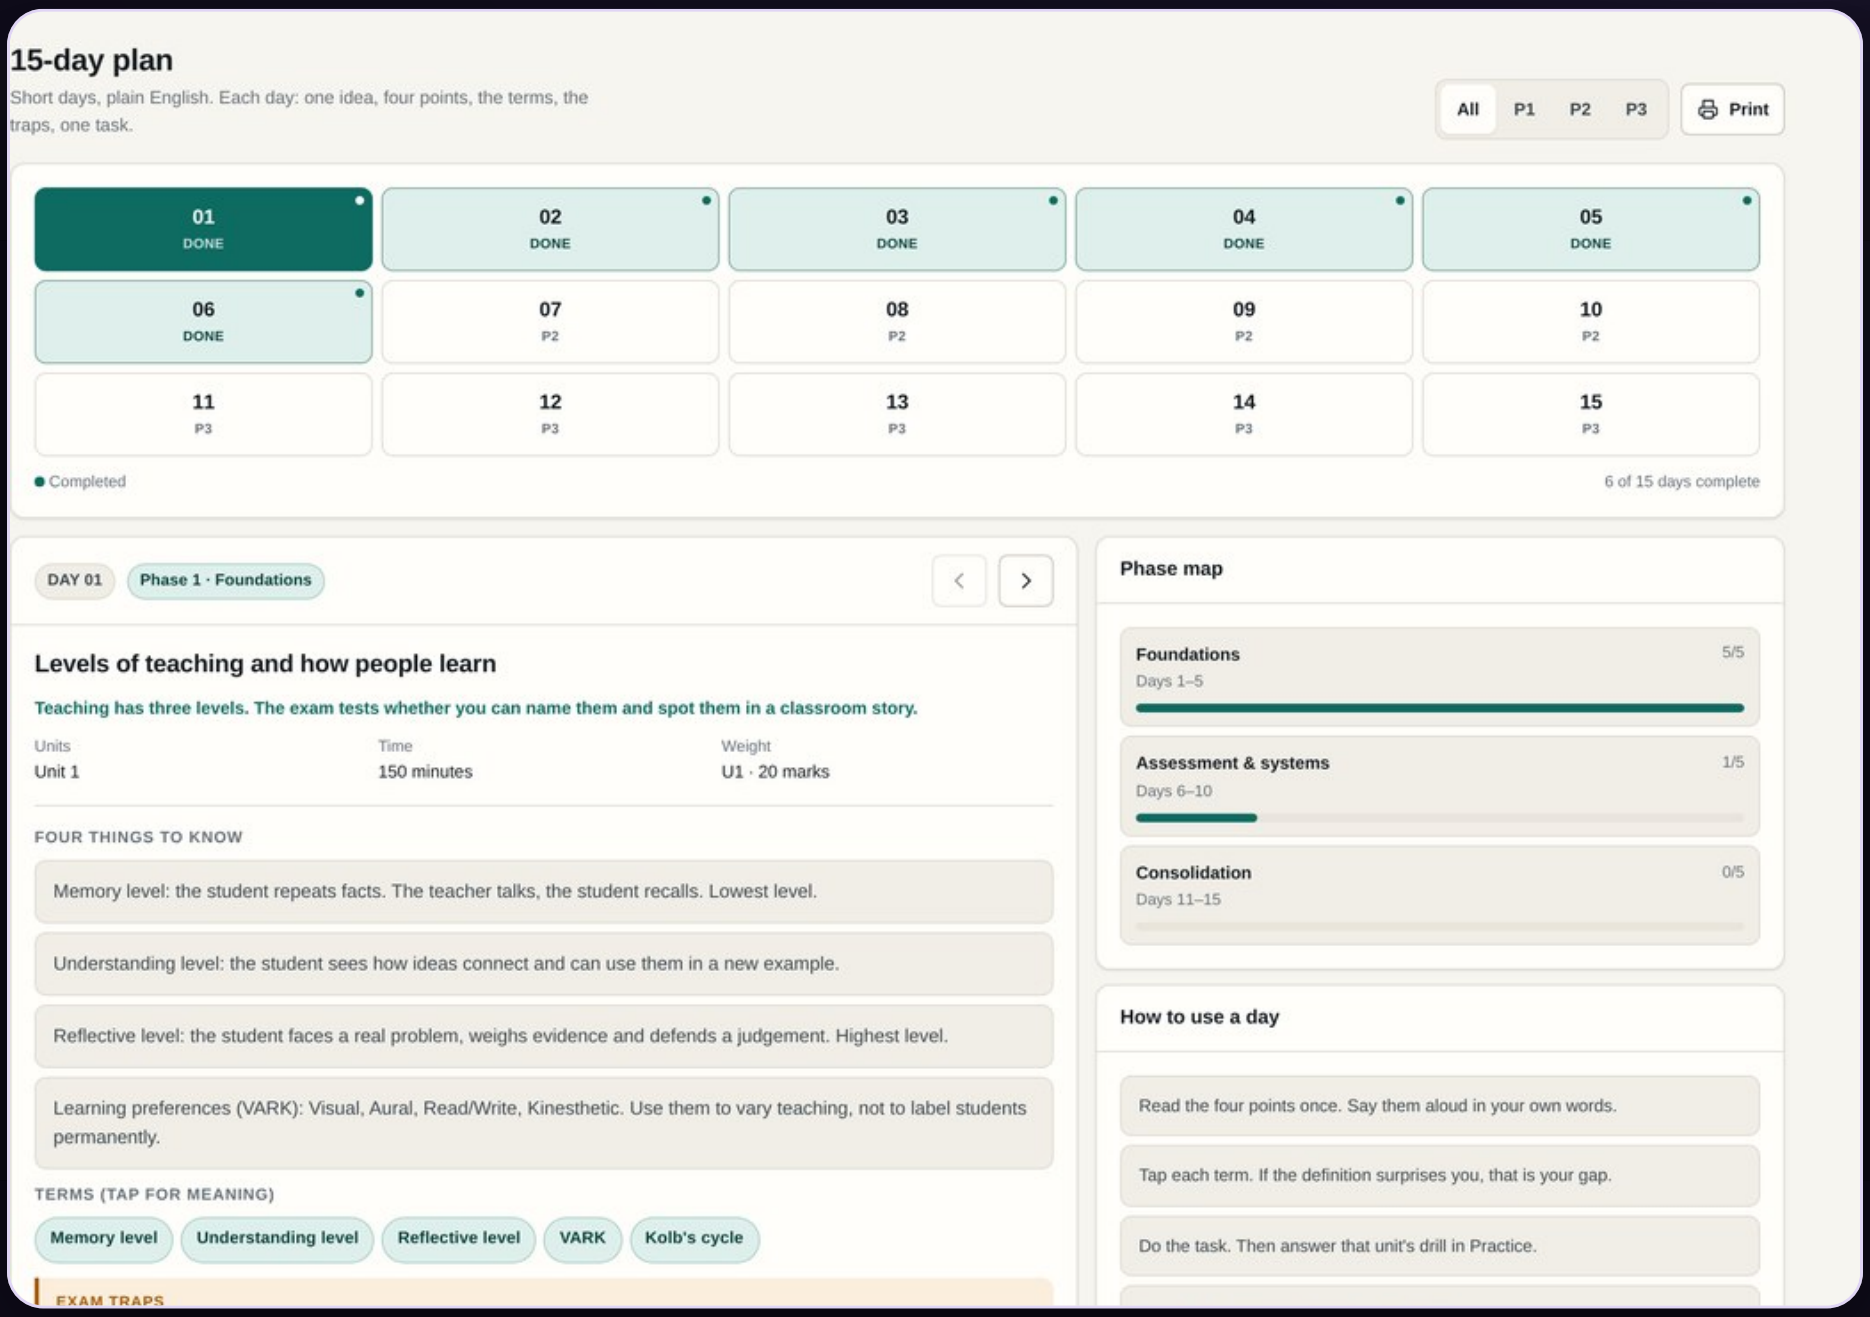

Know where the 100 marks sit

Official weightage 20/10/10/15/10/15/10/10 · syllabus matrix · unit inspector · exam-day protocol

02 · THE 15 DAYS

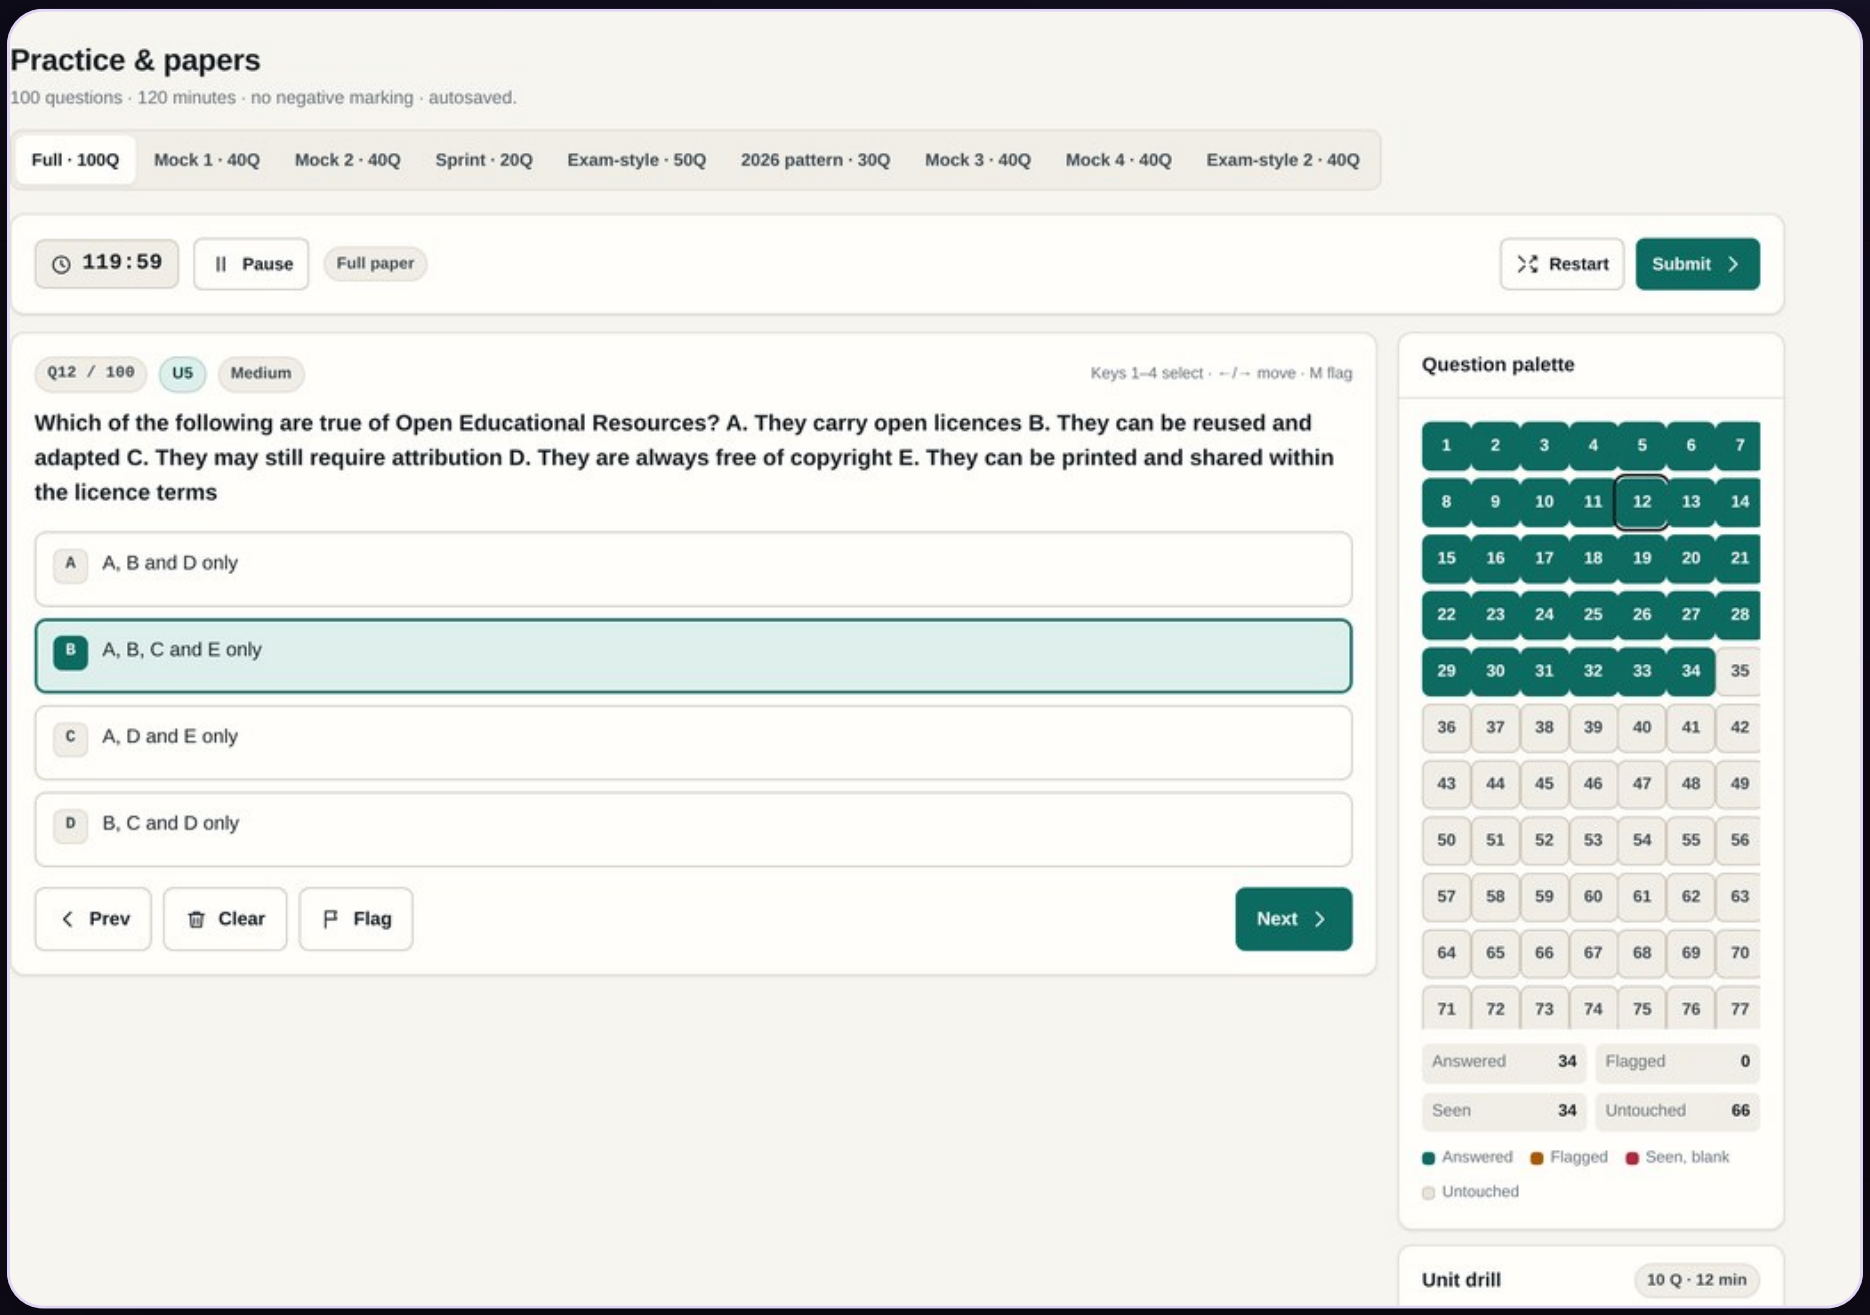

What to do today, in plain English

Each day: one idea, four points, the terms, three exam traps, one task, a time budget

03 · PRACTICE

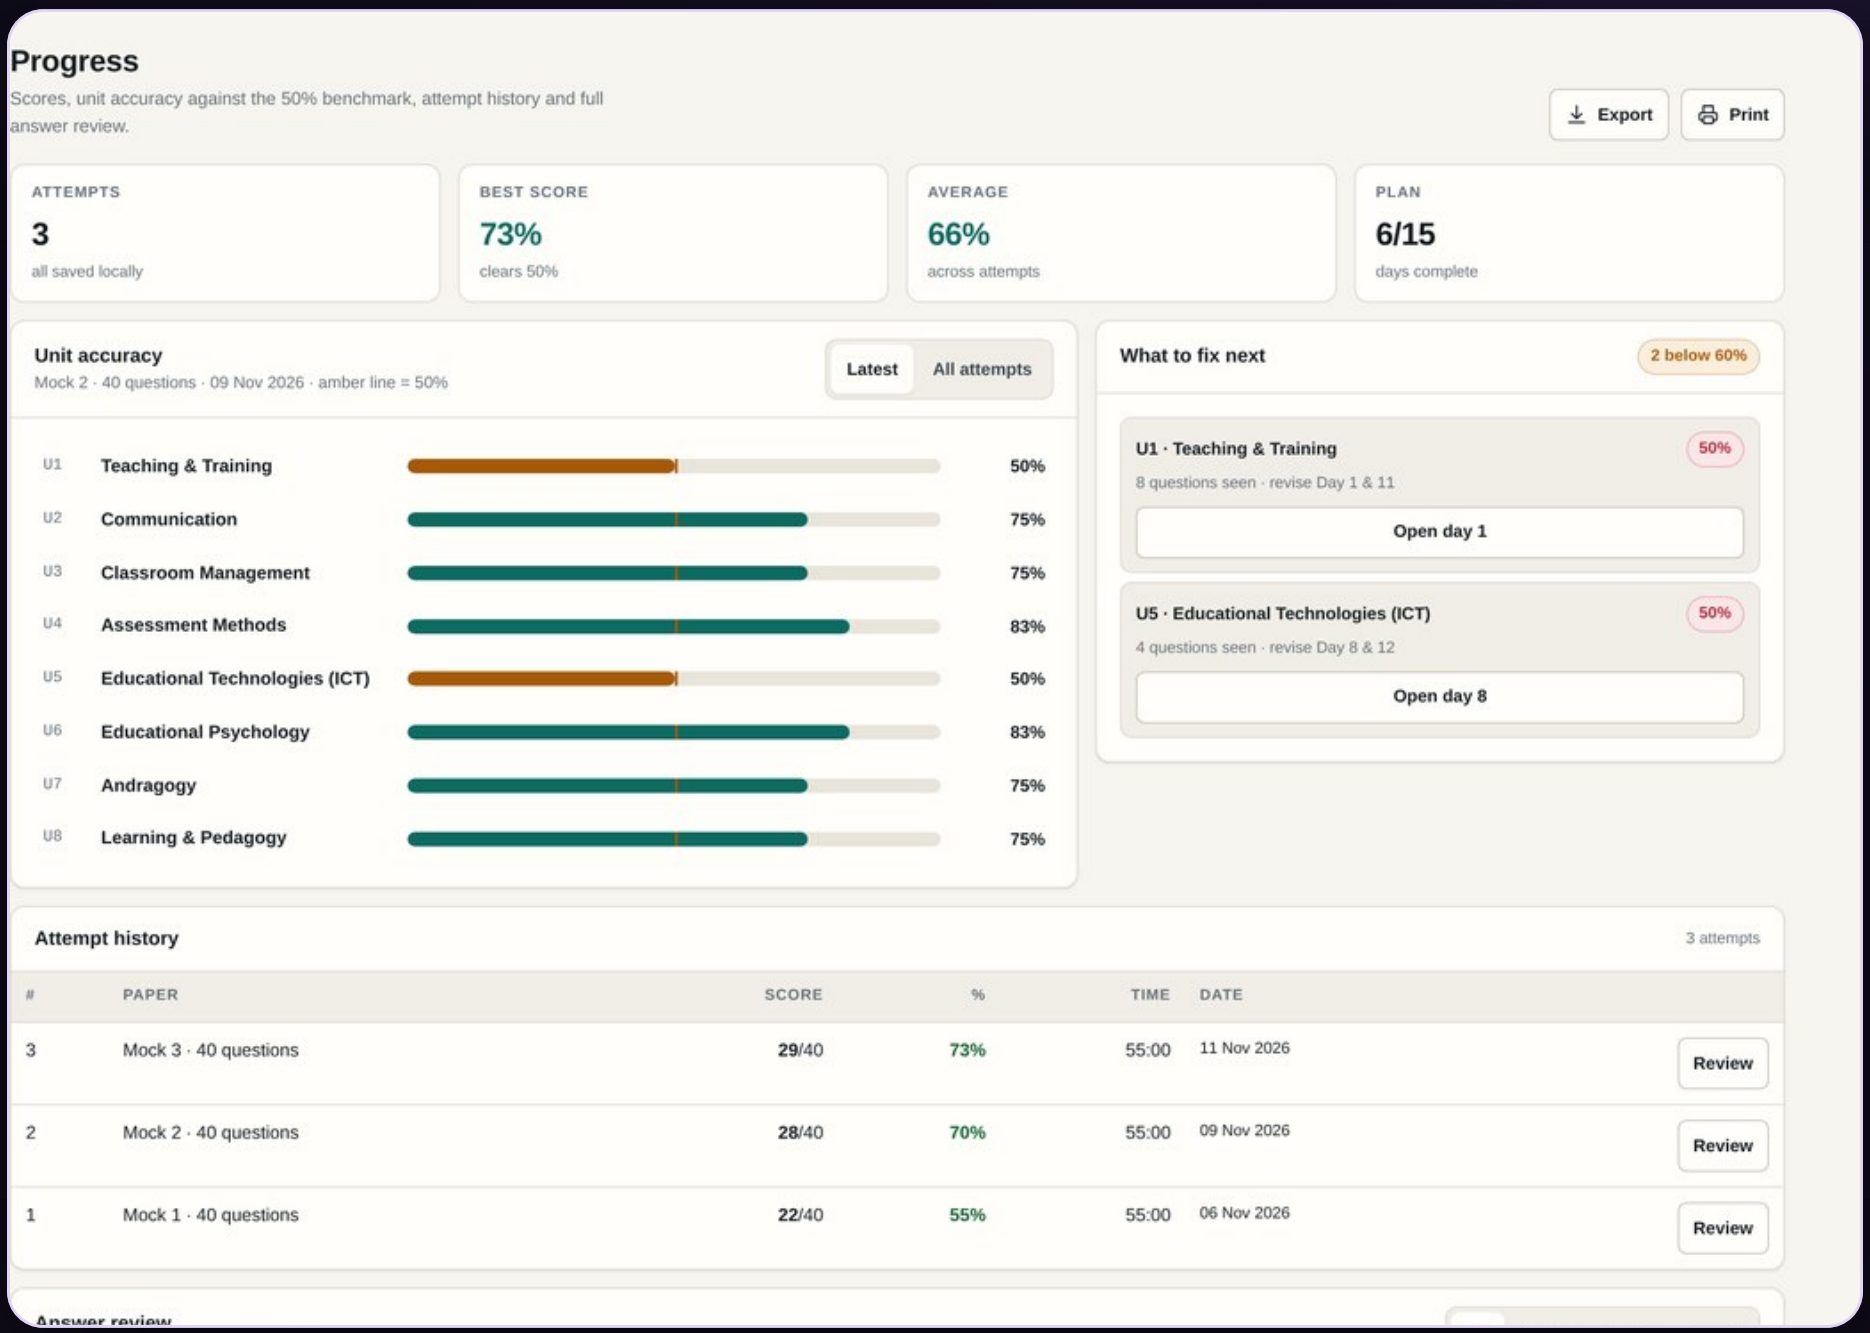

The real exam screen, not a quiz widget

Full 100-question paper, 120 minutes · palette · flags · option shuffle · instant feedback

04 · DIAGNOSTICS

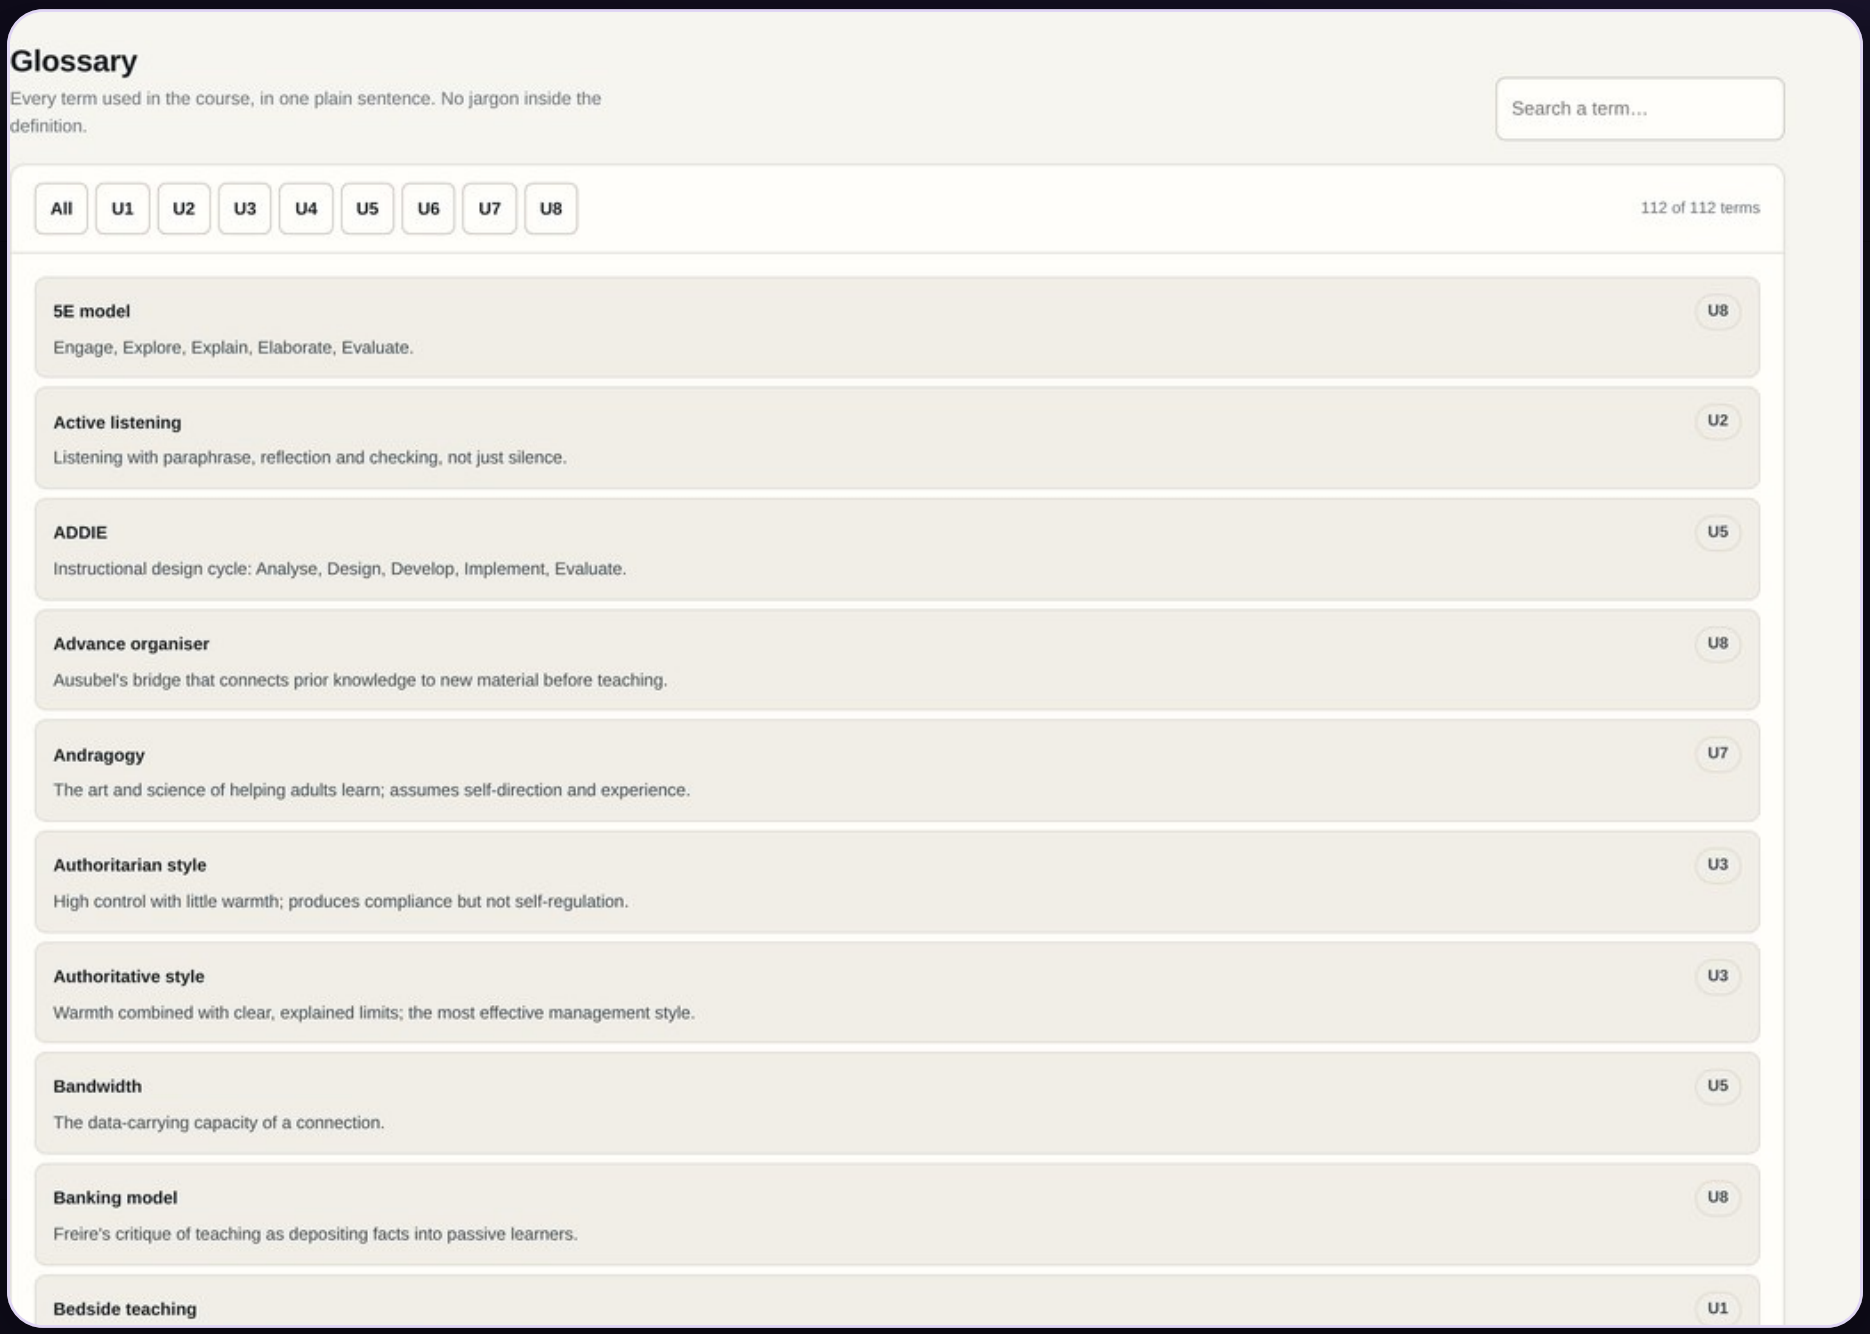

Told what to fix next, not just a score

Unit accuracy against the 50% line · ranked weak units linked to the study day · attempt history · per-question timing

05 · LANGUAGE

112 terms, one sentence each

Linked from every study day. Tap a term, read the meaning, return to the lesson.
